

Women's History Month: Women in Psychology Panel

8 responses

Publish analytics

Please indicate your level of agreement with the following statements: (1 = strongly disagree, 2 = disagree, 3 = neutral or NA, 4 = agree, and 5 = strongly agree)

I have gained a better understanding about a career path in Psychology.

8 responses

I have gained a better understanding about graduate school in Psychology.

8 responses

I have learned at least one thing that I can apply to my own personal education and/or career.

8 responses

I felt that the panelists were relatable.

8 responses

I felt comfortable asking questions throughout the presentation

8 responses

Why did you choose to attend this session today?

8 responses

To learn more and get a better understanding

I found it very interesting and motivational and I found out about it as extra credit it for biopsychology

To gain greater insight and 'find' my way

I attended this session today because it was a good opportunity and a good learning experience

I am always interested in hearing the experiences of those in the field of psychology and the educational path they traveled.

I wish to learn as much as I can from others who have gone before me.

I didn't go in with any expectations, but it was incredibly helpful and educational.

I am interested in Psychology/Psychiatry and wanted to know more about career

What did you enjoy about the session today?

8 responses

I love talking about grad schools

I enjoyed a lot of the person aspect I love it

Learning that I am not alone in this journey

I one of the things I learned about the session was there was different ways to describe psychology and how it helps us in the world from having working with detectives having Justice working with different families

Dr. Van has experience applying Buddhist practices to clinical psychology and this is a subject I am very interested in. She provided me with her email and I look forward to starting a dialogue with her on the subject.

Hearing about challenges that arose in everyone's life that they overcame to achieve their goal.

It was relatable, and flowed perfectly.

What would you change about the session today?

8 responses

Nothing

Nothing it was absolutely amazing and inspiring

Absolutely nothing

Honestly I would not change a single thing I enjoy having to communicate with others professors in the same career but different way that they use their psychology methods

Make it 2 hours. 75 minutes for five panelists is not enough time.

Have it run longer.

Nothing! :)

I wouldn't change anything. Everyone was very nice and answered some really great questions!

Is there anything else you would like to add about our session today? Thank you for your feedback!

7 responses

None at the moment!

Thank you for everyone for being so inspiring and open!

Honestly I have nothing else to add it was an amazing experience for me and hopefully for the other people that was at the session

No

I just listened to the song suggested by one of the panelists "Breathe - In the Heights Lin-Manuel Miranda" and it is oddly applicable to my life. Thank you for putting this panel on and I am glad that my favorite question was used for the last question.

I loved the diversity in the group.

Thank you for putting up the session! It was helpful and clarifying and helped me feel a little less stressed about what to expect in my future academic endeavors.

This content is neither created nor endorsed by Google. Report Abuse - Terms of Service - Privacy Policy

Google Forms

